

Infrastructure and Technology – A Documentary Series

Topcon welcomes you to take a sneak peek of a special documentary series focused on the impact and speed of technology and the effect it has on our markets by sharing comments from technology innovators, leaders, and researchers.

Shooting for the video took place in multiple locations across the globe and features interviews with executives from Topcon, SAP, Intel, Sensor City along with select experts and consultants.

We look forward to sharing the full documentary series with you in soon! Thank you.
